Choose the plan that fits your needs.

Joining takes less than a minute, and, if your peers are correct, is the best decision you'll make all day. If you're still on the fence, we have a plan called "monthly" - and it's not like the gym. Seriously, you can cancel it in five seconds if this isn't for you.

There's a chance you may already know me!

There's a chance you may already know me! A veteran in the PHP community, I was a co-host on the official Laravel podcast, have written successful books, built popular packages, spoken at multiple Laracon conferences, been a guest on countless podcasts (including PHP Town Hall, Shop Talk, No Capes, and Full Stack Radio), and have contributed to the largest development magazines in the world.

And if I may be so bold, I'm very good at teaching this stuff. You won't find boring, sleep-inducing slides and diagrams (scored to the tune of "umms" and "uhhs") anywhere on this site. No thank you. Instead, I record the sorts of lessons that I wish had been available to me all those years ago: concise and respectful of your time.

Buy me the equivalent of lunch once a month, and I'll teach you everything I know about this business.
